

Flight Instructor (SEP)

Responsible to: Head of Training

Location: Bratislava, Slovakia

The Flight Instructor is responsible for delivering high quality flight, and ground instruction to students in compliance with Training and Safety Standards and applicable aviation authority regulations. They ensure that each student meets course standards, training requirements and objectives as well as a focus on developing a proper student's behaviour and attitude.

Main Responsibilities:

Instruct students in practical training following any applicable Training and Safety Standards and academy standards.

Monitor, plan and assist students to enable satisfactory progress through the course and stay within established timelines; timely and pro-active reporting and action to prevent delays and unsatisfactory progress.

Responsible for timely and accurate completion of all student and flight related administration and records including planning for examinations.

Leading by example, behaving as a role model to students while promoting professional, disciplined and safe behaviour.

Monitor technical and internal status and cleanliness of all the aircraft and facilities concerned and report discrepancies to the responsible colleagues.

Identify and initiate improvements for practical instruction and Training Standards and work with his superior colleague to constantly improve safety and quality levels.

Qualifications, Experience and Personal Qualities:

Current EASA Commercial Pilot License

ICAO level 4

Team oriented

Result oriented

Ability to work independently and with minimal supervision

Due to the number of applications we receive, it's not always possible to contact unsuccessful applicants. Unless you hear from us within 15 days of your application, please assume that you have been unsuccessful on this occasion.